Weather Information from CPS

Parent Communications

For the latest information, please encourage your families to follow the district's social media feeds (Chicago Public Schools Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram) and sign up for emails on the CPS website.

We have also collected some social media graphics that you can post on your school's account to help remind families to layer up properly for severe weather conditions.

You can also find attached an email that the district will send to parents tonight. Help us ensure that the message is seen by your community by forwarding it to your email list as well.

Future Cancellations

We know that questions may be raised within your school community about potential class or activity cancellations later this week. Please work with your network chief if you believe that cancelling your after school activities are warranted.

We recognize the weather will pose challenges for the district this week and will email updates as decisions are made. We will be tracking the forecast for Wednesday, January 30th closely and will provide an update regarding cancellation of classes no later than noon on Tuesday, January 29th.

We thank you for all of the hard work you do each day in support of our children and know we can count on your support as we work to overcome the challenges of another Chicago winter.

Thank you,

LaTanya D. McDade Arnaldo Rivera
